

Termites control service

Termites are particularly troublesome pests as they can cause serious damage to your home or workplace, and are notoriously difficult to get rid of. Often, they thrive discreetly and in inaccessible spots making termite control difficult. Do-It-Yourself anti-termite treatments like termite spray might not be able to treat termite infestation at the root level, especially in the case of large termite colonies. Getting termite treatment from an expert pest control brand is the best way to remove termites from your property and safeguarding your precious belongings.

Pre-construction termite control, better known as Soil Treatment, is performed in the preliminary phase of construction of a property. The aim of pre-construction termite control treatment is to create an anti-termite barrier underneath the building structure to protect against damages caused by subterranean termites. As a part of this treatment, the areas under and around the concrete base are exposed to a specialized solution that creates a termite barrier in order to have a long-term effect.
